and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

I heard a lot of favorable comment on the Christmas opening parade Saturday morning. The number of floats was a big increase over the parades I have seen here in the past and showed that a lot of people put in a great deal of work.

The BCD contest for store windows seems to have brought forth a greater effort on the part of the merchants to give Hamlin a Christmas "look" which I feel is very good.

Community efforts like this seem to gauge the community spirit of a town and show to the visitor that this is a town that is making an effort to fill the people's needs.

The smaller cities are faced with many problems today that nobody seems to have the answer for and probably there is no single answer. But a lot of little things like the efforts put forth by the individuals, civic clubs and merchants during this Christmas opening can add up into an answer to the big problem of survival and growth of our town.

Just to show how little things can grow into big things — The Hamlin Lions Club received a letter this week from the Guatemala Lions Clubs in regards to how the drop in coffee price was effecting their economy.

The drop of 8 cents per pound in the price of coffee in the U. S. market will lower the income of Guatemala by $16,000,000.00.

This directly affects over 31,000 coffee plantation owners and their workers; 76.4 per cent of which have a production of less than 750 bags each.

So you can see that regardless of how small the effort might be, that if there is enough of it, it can have tremendous effect on the problem.

County Livestock Men Organize Health Unit

Jones County livestock men and others concerned with animal health met Thursday, November 30, in Anson to organize and support the recently formed Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation in its drive to do something about the animal health situation.

The special meeting was called by County Agent Kirby Clayton and the Vocational Agriculture teachers in the county.

Charlie Myatt was elected chairman, Jack Morrow, Vice Chairman, Harris Wright, Secretary and Dan McLaren, Treasurer. Other members of the county committee are: Neelinda, John R. Brown, Stanley Jackson; Hamlin, Olin Emerson, W. T. Johnson; Truby, Rex A. Smith, A. J. Teal; Stamford, Earl Smith, Sam Baize; Anson, Roy Nunneley, Woodrow Simmons, Dale King, Charles Graves; Lueders, C. E. Newson, Charles Wade, Wayne Cox, Harold Petty; Trent Douglas Redding; Delk, Billy Vinson; Nugent, Maxie Harvey, Merrick Harvey; Avoca, Birger Haterius, H. B. Haterius, R. T. Taylor; Round Mound, Charlie Smith, Robert Manley; Hawley, Paul Howle, Elmer Holland, E. J. Cooley; Sinclair, Z. Edgar Boaz; Radium, Gano Chittenden, Herman A. Propst; Funston, J. H. Doty, R. G. Rowell; Tuxedo, Sam Baize; Plainview, Gano Chittenden.

The state wide organization purposes are to receive and disburse funds and sponsor research and educational programs on animal health including diseases, insects and parasites to the end that these hazards of livestock production may eventually be controlled. "Animal health," Chairman Myatt said, "is not only a concern of the producer, but the economic loss also effects business and consumers. We all have a lot at stake in this program."

The Foundation's first major effort will be a program aimed at controlling the screwworm. The proposed program is patterned after the successful drive in Florida and the Southeast. The U. S. Department of Agriculture livestock producers, and the State of Florida teamed up to just about remove the pest from the scene. The method used was based on the release of sterile male screwworm flies over the State which resulted in the production of infertile eggs and almost complete elimination of the fly population.

Such a program in Texas will encounter problems not found in Florida. It is bordered by great land areas where the flies overwinter but cooperative efforts could overcome some of the problems, the chairman said.

"Through county organizations such as ours, every livestock producer and other interested persons will have an opportunity to support the foundation and its programs. Producers are being asked to contribute on the basis of 50 cents per head for adult cows, horses, and steers and 10 cents per head for sheep, goats, swine, and deer."

Contributions may be made to any member of the committee. All monies collected will be passed on to the Foundation for support of existing research facilities and conduct of large scale field tests.

Chairman Myatt said "We know this first program will cost several million dollars, but if we can remove the screwworm from the scene, the annual savings will amount to several times the cost of the control effort."

The next meeting will be held in the Anson Agriculture Shop at High School, Thursday night, December 7th at 7:00 p.m.

PLANTER BOX SURVEY RESULTS—

Most Cottonseed Untreated

The farmer was the biggest supplier of cottonseed used in planting the 1961 Jones County cotton crop, according to a Planter Box Survey made this year. The survey was made by the Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., with assistance from the Agronomy Department of A&M College, the county agent, Vo Ag Teachers and Young Farmer's organizations.

Samples of cottonseed were taken from the planter boxes of 148 farmers. Germinations were made on each of these samples. Non-treated samples were treated prior to germinating to prevent excessive mold growth in the germinator. Mold spreads easily to other samples, which have not previously been infested, causing difficulty in making a true germination count. It is recognized that treating these samples raised the laboratory germination over that which the farmer got in the soil. Therefore, it is reasonable to assume that the class of seed (non-certified) which had the highest percentage of non-treated seed, germinated less in the soil than in the germinator.

Seventeen samples of certified seed and 131 samples of non-certified seed averaged eighty-five percent (85%) and eighty-one percent (81%) germination respectively.

The farmer's own seed, and that from another farmer constituted eighty percent (80%) of the seed planted. The seed dealer and ginner each supplied ten percent (10%) of the seed planted.

Fifty-two percent (52%) of the seed planted were not treated. Ninety-one percent (91%) of all non-treated seed were the farmer's own, and another farmers seed. Nine percent (9%) were from the ginner, and all seed sold by seed dealers were treated. Fifty-nine percent (59%) of all non-certified seed were not treated.

There is no practical test for determining the amount of treatment material on seed. "Since most seed treatments carry a dye, it was evident from the amount of dye on the seed that many farmers planted seed with insufficient seed treatment material," said Othel M. Neely, Executive Vice President of Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc. "The farmer received little or no value from the amount of seed treatment used on many samples," was Neely's opinion. Poor treatment seemed to originate from farmer seed.

Seventy-one percent (71%) of all seed were fuzzy. Twenty-six percent (26%) acid delinted, and three percent (3%) mechanically delinted. Eighty-four (84%) of all fuzzy seed were the farmer's own or from another farmer, twelve percent (12%) from the ginner, and four percent (4%) from the seed dealer.

Eleven percent (11%) of the farmers planted all or a major part of their crop with certified seed, and eighty-nine percent (89%) planted all or a major part of their crop with non-certified seed. The seed dealer and ginner supplied 71% and twenty-nine percent (29%) respectively of the certified seed.

Only sixteen percent (16%) of all seed planted were tagged with a Texas Tested Seed Label showing germination percentage, inert matter, other crop seed, weed seed, etc. One hundred percent (100%) of certified and five percent (5%) of non-certified were tagged with Texas Tested Seed Label.

This survey was made in five major cotton producing counties in Texas. Jones county compared with the average as follows: The germination of certified and non-certified averaged four percent (4%) and five percent (5%) higher respectively.

The farmer and his neighbor supplied twenty percent (20%) more of the planting seed.

Thirty-five percent (35%) more non-treated seed were planted. Ninety-one percent of the non-treated seed were the farmer's own, or another farmers, which was equal to the five county average.

Twenty-seven percent (27%) more fuzzy seed, seven percent (7%) more acid delinted (Continued on back page)

By SANDRA SMITH

Quite a few of the Hamlin High School students have been acting rather strange lately. The reason for this strange behavior is the arrival of the long awaited senior rings. The strange behavior pattern seems to be that all the seniors are going down the halls with their hands sticking out. Well, after all, those rings symbolize twelve years of hard work.

Letter to the editor: Say, I move we stop long enough to catch our breath. Then just think five minutes. Our taxes are going up by leaps and bounds. My taxes are more than seven times what they were eleven years ago. The District School Taxes are doubled. Now there is a strong pull and move to raise the State School tax from 35c to 50c on the $100.00. Now lets give five minutes solemn thought to the fact, we are now paying $3.77 on the $100.00. Now add $1.50 for insurance on property and you have $8.87, saying nothing for the upkeep of the property. Pray tell me where the profit comes in? It's a sad day for any town or community when they reach a point that enterprising men see that it don't pay to own property, on account of high taxes. It's a sad day to the wide awake man of small means, as they know the burden will fall on them as the backbone of enterprise and ownership is gone. Now take a long breath, and solve, think and act accordingly. Sam C. Vaughan

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—More than 600 "Texans for Tourists" attended Gov. Price Daniel's conference on Tourism.

They took a long look at sources and resources that can be used to promote national advertising of the state's visible virtues.

While here, they decided to set up a non-profit organization called the Texas Tourist Council. Tentatively scheduled was an organizational meeting for January 10, "or during the next session of the Legislature."

Texas Tourist Council will seek the reverse effect of another group who tried to exploit the state—the carpet baggers. It was the influence of the latter that caused the Legislature to prohibit the use of state funds for advertising Texas' attractions 86 years ago.

Governor Daniel said, "Now the march of time has come full circle... we find ourselves engaged in a vigorous competition which might be called, in a friendly way, another 'war between the states'."

He referred to the battle for tourists—third largest industry in the nation; the 13th in Texas.

Texas Tourist Council will seek $300,000 a year from the Legislature, for advertising tourist attractions. Texas law now requires that state funds be matched by business and industry. So some system of financial subscription will have to be devised.

BANKERS ASKED FOR IDEAS—Governor Daniel sent a letter to the Texas Bankers Association asking the bankers to present a proposal for protecting the rights of bank depositors.

He recommended that newspaper ads be published by the banks to locate owners (or heirs) of accounts inactive for more than seven years.

Governor Daniel added that proper notice to the state of an escheatable property would be "an incidental result of this protection."

He said the subject will be submitted very soon to a special session of the Legislature and asked the TBA to present its own proposal before December 20.

"The reason for the urgency is the known fact that a sizeable number of national banks are transferring these dormant deposits to the profits of the banks without advertising for the lost owners," he wrote.

"I believe most Texas bankers will agree that this is a practice which should be stopped for the protection of the good name of the banking profession in Texas, as well as for the protection of the rights of missing owners and the rights of the State if no owners exist."

WILSON ANNOUNCES—Attorney General Will Wilson has announced as a candidate for governor.

The 49-year-old Dallas native said he has remained loyal to his party, but is "an independent Democrat who wears no man's collar and is not a captive candidate of any faction or interest group."

SHIVERS IN THE NEWS—There's considerable talk in Austin about the possibility of Former Gov. Allan Shivers running again.

This surprised some since Shivers backed Jack Cox in 1960 and Cox is the Republican candidate.

Rumor started with Shivers' statement that: "If I get involved in politics at all next year it will be as a candidate."

HEALTH AND WELFARE COORDINATION—Speaker James A. Turman announced appointment of an advisory committee, composed of Representatives George Richardson of Fort Worth, Obie Jones of Austin and Jim Markgraf of Scurry, to help the Texas Legislative Council study coordination of state health and welfare agencies.

TEXTBOOK STUDY—Five representatives have been appointed to an interim committee to study contents of textbooks used in public schools.

Particular attention will be paid to those relating to American heritage, traditions, philosophy and history.

Representatives W. T. Dungan of McKinney, Bob Bass of DeKalb, John C. Alaniz of San Antonio, Nelson Cowles of Hallsville and Ronald E. Roberts of Hillsboro are to report their findings to the 58th Legislature.

PAROLE OFFICERS NAMED—Some real hope for helping the more than 2,000 present parolees from state training schools at Gatesville, Gainesville and Crockett came from the announcement that four state juvenile parole officers have been employed.

Herbert K. Baldry will serve in Harris County; Jesus Chavez Bonilla, El Paso; Dallas W. Clark, Bexar; and Elton D. Strother in Tarrant. A Dallas County officer hasn't been selected yet. A state director will probably be named after December 14.

Texas Youth Council Director Dr. James A. Turman has expressed hope that the Legislature soon will appropriate more funds to expand the juvenile "prevention and parole" program throughout the state.

Short Snorts—A statewide effort to awaken the conscience of every driver in behalf of safe and legal driving will be undertaken on December 10. "Safety Sunday" will feature the cooperation of church congregations with the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and citizen traffic safety support groups. It will signal the opening of the annual Christmas-New Year's holiday traffic safety campaign.

The Highway Commission approved the expenditure of $15,000,000 for additional safety features to improve Farm to Market roads. Program provides for work on 2,943 miles of FM roads in 182 counties.

Calvin Coolidge, took the oath of office as president at 2:30 a.m. on August 3, 1923, at the home of his father.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER PONDER'S ANOTHER SIDE-SPLITTING PROBLEM THE RUSSIANS ARE NOW FACED WITH

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on route one discovers an amusing problem for the Russians, in his letter this week. It is something to think about.

Dear editor:

Ever since Russia startled the world by being the first to put a satellite into orbit, not to mention a man into orbit, the rest of the world has sort of lost its sense of humor about that country.

For example, too many people get the notion that every test the Russians make comes off successfully the first time, that it just never does make a mistake, that it has no problems to speak of, etc.

Well, I've been thinking about one of Russia's problems, and I'm surprised nobody else has mentioned it. You know, the late Stalin, who was a hero in Russia for a long time, has now been re-classified as a bum by Khrushchev, and the Russians are busy trying to eliminate all reference to him. History books are being re-written, Stalin's body has been removed from Lenin Square, his statues are being torn down, his pictures are coming off of walls, etc.

Now, I can see how they can change the name of Stalingrad to Leninville, and Stalin Avenue to Lenin Alley, and things like that, but have you ever stopped to think that during the long dictatorship of Stalin, when he was the Russians' substitute for God, there must have been thousands of babies named after him? What are they going to do about that? There must be hundreds of grown men in Russia, born when Stalin was a hero, named Stalin Jonesky, Stalin Smithsky, Stalin Brownsky, etc. After all, it'd be the natural thing to do. In our own country, we've got hundreds of George Washington Smiths, Roosevelt Browns, and such like.

This is bound to be a ticklish problem in Russia right now. After a man has been called Stalin Smithsky for 20 years or more, it might be hard for him to switch with a straight face and say, "My parents made a grave historical error, my name is really Nikita Smithsky and I hope you'll bear it in mind." You know that when a friend yells, "Hey, Stalin, let's grab a bite of borsch and go bowling," he's bound to respond, before he remembers his first name is really not Stalin, starting week before last. And what's Nikita Smithsky going to do when whoever re-places Nikita Khrushchev comes into power?

There are a lot of funny things happening in Russia these days, and the rest of the world is missing a bet if it doesn't start laughing at them.

FAIRVIEW NEWS--

By MRS. ELMER JOINER

It seems like sickness is about the only news we could find this week. The damp, bad weather seems to have brought several cases of flu, and colds, as well as other illness among our folks. Owing to the sick folks, attendance was off at church Sunday.

Mr. Joe Ford is in the Hamlin Hospital, but is reported to be feeling better, and it is hoped he will soon be home.

Mrs. Roy Smith spent several days last week in the Anson Hospital, but has since recovered.

Melinda Kay Wright has been ill the past week, but not in the hospital.

Mr. E. A. Henry is on the sick list again, confined to his home with a severe cold.

Mrs. George Wainwright reports that her nephew, Larry McCright, was involved in another wreck the last few days, which cost him two fingers on one hand. A jeep in which he was a passenger, which was pulling a trailer, overturned and in the accident his hand was injured. He is the one that was in a car that overturned recently with him, causing a concussion, and he spent several days in the hospital. Bad luck certainly seems to be following him, we hope for him that it has run its course.

The W. M. U. met with Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum last Monday for an all day meeting to observe the week of prayer. All of the programs for the week were given briefly, in the day long program. Each lady brought a covered dish and a nice lunch was enjoyed by the following members: Mmes. Flavel Holmes, Winslow Gray, Doyle Combs, Elmer Joiner, H. L. Ford and Mrs. Rosenbaum.

At two o'clock several more ladies gathered and the pastor's wife was given a pink and blue shower. The day was enjoyed by all those present, especially the program on missions.

Monday night a group from the church went to Abilene to the skating rink and bowling alley. It was to be for the young people but owing to conflicting activities, it turned out that it was all ages but they enjoyed it any way. Those taking part were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright and Bill Goodman, Rev. Doyle Combs and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin, Linda and Sue Roddy, Jimmy Wainwright and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wright, residents of Abilene, joined them.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner went to Stamford Saturday to help their son, Jimmy Joiner and family, to move.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Agnew former residents of our community are rejoicing over the arrival of a new grandson, Wallace Reid Williams, born Nov. 30th to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams of Pampa. He weighed in at seven pounds and three ounces. He has an adopted sister, Meridyn, who is seven and one half months old.

COTTONSEED—

seed and twenty-eight percent (28%) less mechanically delinted seed, and six percent (6%) less of seed processed in other ways to remove a part or all of the lint was planted. Thirty-four percent (34%) more of the fuzzy seed were not treated.

Eleven percent (11%) less certified seed, and eleven percent (11%) more non-certified seed were planted.

Fifty-nine percent (59%) of the non-certified seed were not treated compared to twenty-two percent (22%) of the five county average.

Thirteen percent (13%) more of the seed were not tagged with a Texas Tested Seed Label.

Some conclusions which can be made from this survey are as follows:

1. The farmer is the largest supplier of cottonseed in Jones County.

2. Certified seed germinate higher than non-certified seed.

3. A large percentage of the cottonseed does not travel through accepted seed trade channels.

4. Many farmers plant cottonseed with insufficient seed treatment.

5. Most farmers who want to know the germination of his seed uses services of private companies.

6. A very high percentage of farmers who delint (acid, mechanical or other) their seed, also apply seed treating materials.

7. Most of the non-treated seed are the farmer's own, or from another farmer, and are fuzzy seed.

8. The germination of non-certified seed varied considerably.

95 PER CENT OF ALL HUNTING ACCIDENTS COULD BE AVOIDED

AUSTIN—Quail season opened in Texas December 1, sending even more hunters into fields to join those still stalking deer and turkey or hunting rabbits. It's anyone's guess as to how many hunters will fall victim to another hunter's gun.

Statistics contend 95 percent of hunting accidents involving guns could be avoided by sensible handling of firearms. Last year 194 Texans died in accident involving firearms.

Expert hunters realize guns are instruments of violence, not toys to be handled frivolously. One of the most deadly hunting situations is created when hunting is combined with drinking.

In the best hunting circles top ranking is accorded the safe, thoughtful gunhandler. He earns highest respect and is a welcome companion among the elite in the field.

A smart hunter keeps his gun empty of ammunition, except when actually on the prowl for game. He never carries a loaded gun in an automobile, into home surroundings or into a camp when only hunters are present.

An inexcusable violation of safety, sportsmanship, hunting ethics and common sense, and is instantly recognized as the act of a juvenile. It is the quickest way to lose the respect and friendship of a competent gunhandler.

Climbing fences is another test of hunting sense. Either pass the gun to a companion—muzzle pointed safely—for him to hold while you climb through or over, or lay the gun on the ground while you cross over.

Another frequent cause of hunting mishaps is an exploding gun, the barrel of which has been clogged with mud or snow. Basic intelligence dictates that when a gun muzzle touches the ground it should be unloaded and checked for obstructions.

Charles E. Helms In Field Exercise

1ST CAV. DIV., KOREA—Army PFC Charles E. Helms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. T. Helms, Hamlin, Texas, recently participated with other personnel from the 1st Division's 5th Cavalry in Yellow Jacket III, a field training exercise in Korea.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to enable the unit to maintain a high degree of combat readiness.

Helms, a truck driver in the Cavalry's Company D, received basic training at Fort Hood, Texas.

When two or more people are hunting together, walking abreast has proved to be the safest formation. Members of the party should keep each other in sight, yet stay far enough apart to give each plenty of room. Guns, of course, should be pointed groundward or straight ahead. Bright colors, preferably yellow or red, should be worn by all hunters.

Never shoot unless you're certain it is at game. Nothing so identifies the rank amateur as taking a shot merely at sound or movement. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Nearly anyone who has anything to do with retail shopping or retail selling would agree that grocery advertising in newspapers is highly effective.

To the consumer, the grocery advertising represents savings in time money, and transportation costs. To the grocer, the advertising means greater volume and savings in sales' costs, storage, and wholesale prices.

Because the effects of newspaper advertising by grocery stores can be noted so quickly and objectively, experienced grocers have little doubt concerning its value. Thus, grocery advertising is consistently a dominating feature of newspapers.

Retailers handling other types of products can not employ methods for the immediate testing of advertising as grocers may use; however, other retailers do stand to gain the same benefits when they employ the techniques used by alert grocers.

Savings in the form of lower wholesale prices, losses from surplus and dated stock, sales' costs, and storage expenses may be gained through effective advertising by any type Courtin' in the Grove History tells us that the first District Court in Parker County was held in 1856.

Most unusual is the fact that in the beginning it was an outdoors court. Hearings were held in a post-oak grove alongside the Fort Wort and Fort Belknap Road.

Presiding judge was Nathaniel Burford. A monument now marks the spot, some six miles north of Weatherford.
